Teaching Generation Text: Using Mobile Devices and Social Media to Enhance Learning

Teaching Generation Text: Using Mobile Devices and Social Media to Enhance Learning

In this fast-paced and interactive day, Lisa Nielsen will bring to life the ideas from her book "Teaching Generation Text" and blog The Innovative Educator. Lisa will not only display, discuss, share her ideas, but she will also have the audience join her in harnessing the power of technology for learning.

Participants will discover how teachers are using mobile devices and social media to strengthen the home-school connection and prepare students for academic and career success. They will also analyze their own digital footprint and learn how to give themselves and their students a digital makeover.
