Sophia Cuva is a senior from Williamsville East High School and is enrolled in the Video Production & Recording Arts program at Erie 1 BOCES Harkness Career & Technical Center.

"I enrolled in BOCES because I've always loved film and creating my own films, and I felt this program would allow me to use my creativity and learn more about the art of video production," Sophia said.

In the fall of 2023, following graduation, Sophia plans on attending college to study film.

Under the instruction of Marc Hunt, Sophia has learned about video project development, microphone design and application, digital audio technology and more.

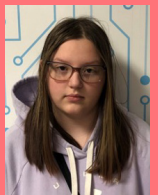

"Sophia works hard on her video projects and goes above and beyond with creativity and effort," Hunt said. "She always creates quality original work and meets deadlines every time an assignment or project is given."

"This program has allowed me to learn about different equipment I can use to create videos," Sophia said. "It's also provided me the opportunity to work with others who also love film and video production."

As part of public education, Erie 1 BOCES offers a variety of career and technical programs during the regular school day to high school students in Erie County. High school students interested in learning more about how they can participate in various programs such as sports science, video production and recording arts, nursing or aviation technology should visit www.e1b.org/cte or speak with their high school counselor.

Emily Olson has found success at Maryvale Academy.

"Emily was selected because she always has a positive attitude and always does her best," said instructor Emily Owens.

Upon graduation, Emily Olson said she hopes to attend college to pursue her dream of being an actor.

"This program has helped me reach my goals by giving me more time to do work in school instead of at home," she said.
