2021 Briefing of Erie 1 BOCES Services

Shianne Foss poses with a special volunteer.

▶▶ Aspiring Animal Radiologist Finds Value in Program

Shianne Foss is a senior from Alden High School and is enrolled in the Animal Science program at Erie 1 BOCES Harkness Career and Technical Center.

"I enrolled in BOCES because I want to continue in the agricultural field after I graduate high school due to the passion and love I have for it," Shianne said.

In the fall of 2021, following graduation, Shianne plans to attend Alfred State University to study veterinary technology. She added she would like to pursue a career in animal radiology for large animals.

Under the instruction of Amy Tuzzolino, Shianne has learned about first aid, grooming, clinical skills, and more.

"Shianne has exemplary dedication to the animal science and agricultural field," said Tuzzolino. "She is an active participant in class and has the potential to become a driving force behind advancing animal science, 4-H and agriculture in our community."

"This program has provided me an advantage to reach my goals by expanding my knowledge on topics I didn't think I really had to know for this profession," Shianne said. "I've learned how committed I need to be to go into the veterinary field. I've also discovered I am very interested in this field due to my personal experience with 4-H and living on a farm."

As part of public education, Erie 1 BOCES offers a variety of career and technical programs during the regular school day to high school students in Erie County. High school students interested in learning more about how they can participate in various programs such as sports science careers, web technologies and game programming, health careers or aviation technology, should visit www.e1b.org/cte or speak with their high school counselor.

▶▶ Alden Student Finds Success

Sophomore Connor Gray has found success in EDGE Academy.

"Connor is motivated to get his work done daily," said Elizabeth Briceno, instructor. "He has established goals for his future, and with his determination, he will achieve them."

Upon graduation, Connor hopes to attend a trade school or go to college.

"Being in smaller classes and receiving individualized assistance has been helpful," Connor said. "I also enjoy attending the Building Trades program."

▶▶ What is BOCES?
